Author Information

Description

Journal of Psychiatry Psychology and Behavioral Research (JPPBR) consist of publications such as research studies, case studies, review article, short communication and theories of Psychiatry, Psychology, Human Behavior, and related areas. JPPBR provides information about mental health and issues around psychopathology, clinical cases, psychodynamics, technology on psychiatry, law and forensic psychiatry, psychopharmacology and psychotherapy. This journal provides immediate open access to its content on the principle that making research freely available to the public supports a greater global exchange of knowledge. JPPBR already had International Standard Serial Number for both print (p-ISSN 2723-0821) and electronic (e-ISSN 2723-083X).

Guide for Authors

Introduction

Authors can use this list to have final check of submission before send it to the journal for review. All papers in JPPBR must be written for an international audience, whether native English or not, please consider and ensure use clear English language in your publication article. JPPBR accept articles in research results, literature reviews and expert commentary.

This journal operates a single blind review process. All contributions will be initially assessed by the editor for suitability for the journal. Papers deemed suitable are then typically sent to a minimum of two independent expert reviewers to assess the scientific quality of the paper. Editor is responsible for the final decision regarding acceptance or rejection of articles. Editor’s decision is final.

Any financial and personal relationship with other third parties (people or organizations) that could influence their work must disclose, due to compete interests, honoraria, paid expert testimony, patent applications or other funding.

Submission of an article in JPPBR has not been published previously, not under consideration for publication elsewhere, that publication is approved by all authors. If accepted, paper will not be published elsewhere in the same form (English or any other language), including electronically or paper based. Authors are expected to consider carefully the list and order of authors before submitting their manuscript and provide list of authors at the time of the original submission. Any addition, deletion or rearrangement of author names in the authorship list should be made only before the manuscript has been accepted and only if approved by the Journal Editor.

Article structure

Title - must be informative, used in information-retrieval systems, avoid abbreviation and or formulae (if possible).

Author names and affiliations - must clearly and accurately. Indicate all affiliations with a lower-case superscript letter after the author’s name and in front of appropriate address. Author need to fulfill their affiliations including the country and mail address. Kindly describe if their any corresponding author of refereeing stages during and after publications.

Abstract - state briefly the purposes oy research, principal results and major conclusions.

Keywords - provide maximum 6 keywords for indexing purposes.

Introduction - Describe your objective clearly with provide adequate background but not in detailed literature review or based your conclusion project.

Material and methods - Describe sufficient details of work, if already published should be summarized and declare it by a reference. Quotation marks also needed if previously have published elsewhere. Any modifications to existing methods should also be described.

Theory - this section should give clear explanation about the results, not repeating a theory, have correlation with introduction.

Results - should be clear and concise based on author’s work.

Discussion - should explore the significance of the results, not repeat the result. Author need to combine of results and their new topic of discussion. Author need to avoid another extensive citations and discussion of published literature.

Conclusions - could presented with conclusion section depend on author scientific questions on their paperwork.

Appendices - Author permitted to bring more than one appendix on their publication work such as figure or table. Author need to submit tables as editable text, not as images. Tables can be placed either next to the relevant text in the article or in separate page(s) at the end.
References - every reference cited in the text is also present in the reference list (and vice versa). Citations in the text should follow the referencing style used by the American Psychological Association. You are referred to the Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association, Sixth Edition, ISBN 978-1-4338-0561-5, copies of which may be ordered online or APA Order Dept., P.O.B. 2710, Hyattsville, MD 20784, USA or APA, 3 Henrietta Street, London, WC3E 8LU, UK. References should be arranged first alphabetically and then further sorted chronologically if necessary. More than one reference from the same author(s) in the same year must be identified by the letters 'a', 'b', 'c', etc., placed after the year of publication.

Examples:

Reference to a journal publication:

Reference to a journal publication with an article number:

Reference to a book:

Reference to a chapter in an edited book:

Reference to a website:

Reference to a dataset:

Reference to a conference paper or poster presentation:

Kindly contribute your paper work with us, see you again as soon as possible.

Regards,
Chief Editor Journal of Psychiatry Psychology and Behavioral Research

Zuhrotun Ulya, MD, Psychiatrist, LLM